

Luke Killeffer &lt;lukekilleffer@gmail.com&gt;

---

Circle Room eagle project

3 messages

---

Luke Killeffer <lukekilleffer@gmail.com>

Sun, Jan 13, 2019 at 3:38 PM

To: Chris Schultz &lt;christoff88@gmail.com&gt;, David Killeffer &lt;dkilleffer@gmail.com&gt;

Hi Mr. Schultz, I am writing you this email to ask if you could talk with me and my dad about the possibility of renovating the circle room at the next troop meeting. Along with what I need to do to prepare for this and how I should raise money.

Thanks!
-Luke Killeffer

---

David Killeffer <dkilleffer@gmail.com>

Mon, Jan 14, 2019 at 11:17 AM

To: Luke Killeffer &lt;lukekilleffer@gmail.com&gt;

Cc: Chris Schultz &lt;christoff88@gmail.com&gt;

Hi Luke,

It's good that you've asked Scoutmaster Schultz to meet to discuss an Eagle Scout Project, but you really should be in charge of writing down, knowing and understanding what questions you have, how you get started on a project, etc. This isn't Cub Scouts anymore, this is meant to be the culmination of everything you've learned in Scouting up to this point. With that said, here are some links to very useful resources that you can use to help guide your thinking about what the Eagle Scout Project is, how you go about getting started, and what the expectations are for you as an Eagle Scout candidate:

"Getting Started on your Eagle Project" - <http://blog.myscoutstuff.org/2012/03/getting-started-on-your-eagle-project/>
"Mr. Scoutmaster... What's a good Eagle Project?" - <http://www.nnjsa.org/life-to-eagle/what-is-a-good-eagle-project/56740>

Navigating the Eagle Scout Service Project - <https://filestore.scouting.org/filestore/pdf/510-025.pdf>

I am always available to help with your project, but *you* have to be the one that drives the project forward. I would also suggest (given the very short amount of time you have left) that you establish a calendar for yourself, and write down milestones of what you want and expect to accomplish at each milestone. I would recommend setting milestone goals for every week, and myself and/or Scoutmaster Schultz can help review your written-down milestones to let you know whether or not they are SMART (Specific, Measurable, Obtainable, Realistic, Timely - https://east.madison.k12.wi.us/files/east/Smart%20Goals%20Information%20CC%2011\_0.pdf).

Love,
Dad

[Quoted text hidden]

---

Chris Schultz <christoff88@gmail.com>

Tue, Jan 15, 2019 at 3:34 PM

To: David Killeffer &lt;dkilleffer@gmail.com&gt;

Cc: Luke Killeffer &lt;lukekilleffer@gmail.com&gt;

Luke,

Your dad is right on target. While I am happy help in any way I can, this project is up to you. All I can do is show you the space in question and offer some suggestions. You will need to talk to Mr. Coburn at the Legion to see what they want done. Everything you need to know to prepare is in the links your father provided. As far as raising money, you're getting ahead of yourself. You need to know what this project may cost and what resources are available before you even start thinking about fundraising.

I can show you the space tonight, the rest is up to you, kiddo!

Chris Schultz

1/8/2020

Gmail - Circle Room eagle project

[Quoted text hidden]